

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

Effective as of April 14, 2003; Revised as of June 19, 2014

We are required by law to maintain the privacy of your protected health information and to provide you with notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your protected health information. "Protected health information" is information about you, including demographic information that may identify you and that relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition and related care services. We are required to abide by the terms of our Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") currently in effect. We reserve the right to make changes to the terms of our Notice and to make such new Notice provisions effective as to all your protected health information ("PHI"). We will post each revised Notice in our office, make copies of the revised Notice available upon request, and place the revised Notice on our web-site.

USES AND DISCLOSURES OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION WITHOUT YOUR CONSENT.

Treatment. We may use or disclose your PHI to provide and coordinate your health care and related services. This may include communications with other health care professionals regarding your health care, including your referral to another health care provider. For example, we may share PHI with other health care providers involved in your treatment, such as with a pharmacy when calling in your prescription.

Payment. We may use or disclose your PHI to obtain payment or be reimbursed for the health care and related services we provide for you. Such disclosures can be made to billing services, collection departments or credit bureaus. For example, even before you receive services, we may disclose your PHI with your health plan(s) to determine coverage eligibility.

Health Care Operations. We may use or disclose PHI in connection with certain administrative, financial, legal and quality improvement activities that are necessary for us to run our practice and to support our functions of treatment and payment. For example, we may use or disclose your PHI for quality assessments and improvement activities, employee training programs, licensing requirements, or conducting a medical review or audit.

Incidental Use or Disclosure. An "incidental use or disclosure" is a use or disclosure that cannot reasonably be prevented, is limited in nature and occurs as a result of another permissible or required use or disclosure. We have set up reasonable safeguards that protect against impermissible uses and disclosures and limits incidental uses or disclosures. We also have policies and procedures that set limits to ensure that, as applicable, only the reasonable minimum necessary amount of your PHI is used, disclosed and requested for certain purposes.

You Can Object to Certain Uses or Disclosures. For each of the uses or disclosures of your PHI listed below, if you are present and able, we will either (1) obtain your oral permission, (2) give you the opportunity to object, or (3) reasonably infer from the circumstances, based on our professional judgement, that you do not object. If you are unable to object, we will use our professional judgement to disclose only such PHI as is directly related to such person's involvement in your health care. For uses or disclosures:

- to a relative, friend or other person identified by you, only your PHI that is directly relevant to that person's involvement in your health care or payment for health care;
- to a family member, personal representative, or other person responsible for your care, only your PHI necessary to notify such individuals of your location, general condition or death; or
- to a private or public agency for disaster relief purposes.

Notwithstanding your objection, we are still permitted to share your PHI as necessary for emergency circumstances.

Required Uses or Disclosures. We are required by law to disclose your PHI to you pursuant to your patient right of access and accounting as described below. We are also required to disclose your PHI to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services when required for their investigation of our compliance with applicable laws.

Our Contact with You. We may use or disclose your PHI to provide you with appointment reminders (such as sending postcards or leaving a voicemail message, etc.), to provide you information regarding treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. We will notify you in the event you are affected by an unsecured breach of information.

Business Associates. We may use and disclose your PHI with other business associates. A "business associate" is a person or entity that provides certain functions, activities or services on our behalf pursuant to a written agreement that contains terms regarding protection of your PHI.

Other Uses and Disclosures. We may use or disclose your PHI when such use or disclosure is:

- required by law or used for law enforcement purposes;
- necessary for public health activities;
- necessary to report abuse, neglect or domestic violence;
- for health oversight activities;
- for judicial and administration proceedings;

- for medical research;
- to coroners, medical examiners or funeral directors;
- for cadaveric organ, eye or tissue donation purposes;
- to avert a serious threat to the health or safety of a person or the public;
- for specialized governmental functions; or
- for workers compensation.

Remuneration. We may not receive compensation or remuneration in exchange for the release of your protected health information unless a valid authorization to such extent has been obtained from you or such release is allowed by applicable law.

ALL OTHER USES AND DISCLOSURES OF YOUR PHI REQUIRES YOU WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION.

You may authorize us to use or disclose your PHI for other purposes. You may revoke your authorization in writing at any time; however, your revocation will not apply to any uses or disclosures that were being processed before we received your revocation.

YOUR PATIENT RIGHTS.

Restrictions. You have the right to ask us to restrict our uses or disclosures of part or all of your PHI for treatment, payment, health care operations or to individuals involved in your care. We are required to comply with your request for a restriction of disclosure to a health plan for purposes of payment or healthcare operations if you paid in-full, out of pocket, for the healthcare item or service. We will attempt to accommodate other reasonable requests.

Confidential Communications. You have the right to request that communications about your PHI be delivered by an alternative means or at alternative locations. For example, you may request that we contact you at your workplace about appointments. You must make such requests in writing. We will accommodate reasonable requests, but may condition such accommodations upon our receipt of a satisfactory explanation of how payments for your services will be handled and an alternative address or other method of contact.

Access. You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of your PHI contained in clinical, billing and certain other records used to make decisions about you, except in certain limited situations. Your request must be in writing, and we will charge you reasonable cost-based fees for expenses (such as copying and postage). Instead of paper copies, if the information is maintained in an electronic health record, you may request that the information be provided in electronic form to either you or to a designated third-party if such designation is clear, conspicuous, and specific. You may be charged a reasonable cost-based fee for the electronic copy, which shall not exceed our labor costs in responding to the request. Instead of copies we may provide you with a summary of your PHI, if you agree to the form and cost of such summary. We may, in some cases, deny your request and will notify you in writing of the reasons for our denial and provide you with information regarding your rights to have our denial of your request reviewed.

Amendments. You have the right to request and amendment to your PHI contained in clinical, billing and certain other records used to make decisions about you, except in certain limited situations. Your request must be in writing and provide a reason to support the requested amendment. We may, in some cases, deny your request for amendment and will notify you in writing of the reasons for our denial, provide you with information regarding your rights to submit a written statement disagreeing with such denial and provide information on how to file such statement.

Accounting. You have the right to receive a listing of disclosures of your PHI. With respect to information contained in paper form, the accounting will include the disclosures made for purposes other than treatment, payment, health care operations, to you upon your request, your authorization, to individuals involved in your care or as allowed by law. With respect to information contained in an electronic health record, the accounting will contain the disclosures made for purposes other than to you upon your request, your authorization, or as allowed by applicable law. You may request all such disclosures made during the last 6 years (but not any disclosures made prior to April 14, 2003) for information stored in paper form and made during the last 3 years (but not any disclosures made prior to implementation of the electronic health records system) for information stored in an electronic health record. If you request this list more than once in a 12-month period, we may charge you reasonable cost-based expenses to comply with your additional request.

Electronic Notice. If you received this notice by email or off our web-site, you have the right to receive this notice in written form upon your request. You may request a written copy of this Notice by contacting our business office.

QUESTIONS AND COMPLAINTS.

If you have any questions or feel that your privacy rights have been violated by us or want to complain to us about our privacy practices, you can contact our Privacy Officer at 1201 11th Avenue South, Suite 300, Birmingham, Alabama 35205 or by calling 205-933-2625.

You may also submit a written complaint to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. We will not retaliate in any way against you if you choose to file a complaint with us or the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
